

Fanvil Ushers in a New Era with Grand Opening of Its New Headquarters

Shenzhen, China, July 22, 2025- Fanvil Link Technology Co., Ltd (hereinafter referred to as “Fanvil”) celebrated the grand opening of its new headquarters today at Runzhi R&D Center, Bao’an District, Shenzhen, China. The relocation marks a key milestone in the company’s strategic expansion and ongoing pursuit of high-quality development. The event was attended by board members, executives, and employees, all gathered to witness this important moment.

Lion Dance Ceremony: Awakening Prosperity and Fortune

The event featured a powerful traditional lion dance performance, accompanied by vibrant drumbeats and jubilant cheers. Fanvil Chairman James and CEO Robbin performed the eye-dotting ritual, symbolizing insight, good fortune, and a fresh surge of energy as the company moves into its new chapter.

Grand Unveiling of the New Headquarters

Following the lion dance, Chairman James, CEO Robbin, and Vice General Managers Jack and Mr. Feng Jianwen unveiled the nameplate of the new office together. As the red curtain was lifted, Fanvil's new journey officially set sail.

Gratitude for the Journey · A Future Built Together

After the ceremony, all employees gathered for group photos to commemorate this meaningful occasion. A special "Relocation Celebration Corner" was set up in the reception and lounge areas, where team members and partners from the park could share in the joy of this moment.

The lion dance troupe then toured the new office in a "blessing parade," bringing luck, energy, and applause throughout the workspace—wishing Fanvil continued prosperity and success in the years ahead.

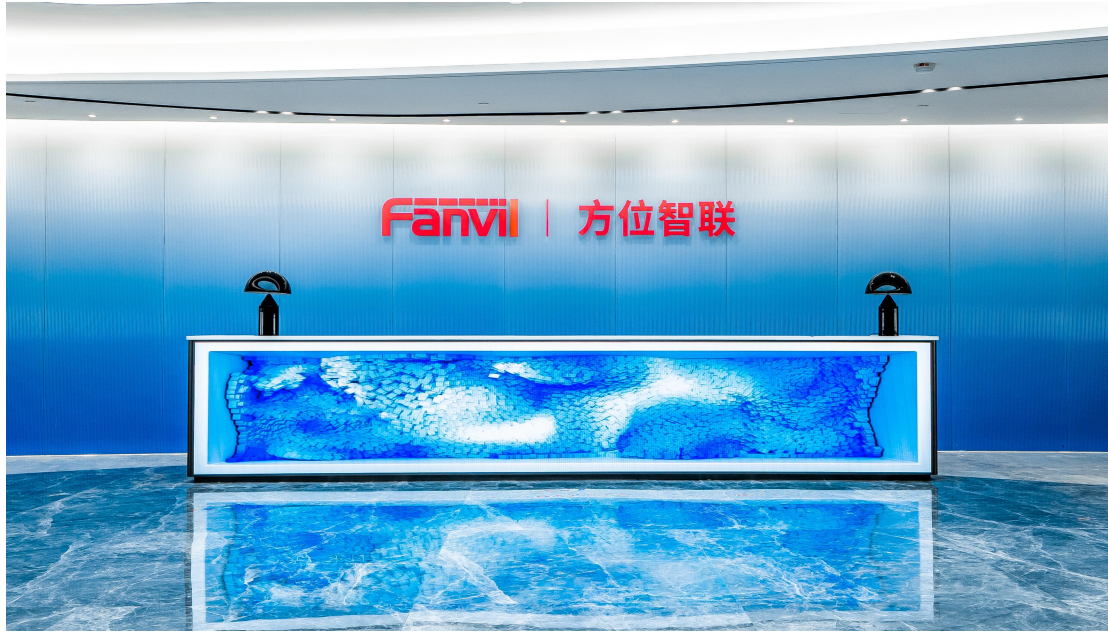

New Office, New Horizons

This relocation marks not only an upgrade of the working environment, but also a strategic milestone in Fanvil's long-term development. As a global leader in intelligent AI communication solutions, Fanvil continues to drive innovation through technology, enhance its product and service capabilities, and expand its global market reach.

Standing at a new starting point, Fanvil is committed to setting higher standards for itself, striving to build the world's intelligent gateway that connects people and AI. Together with our customers and partners, we look forward to a future full of innovation, collaboration, and shared success.

Welcome to Visit Our New Address

Fanvil's new headquarters is now officially in operation:

13th Floor, Building 2, Runzhi R&D Center, Xin'an Street, Bao'an District, Shenzhen, China

We warmly welcome you to discover the new Fanvil—where innovation meets ambition, and the future begins.