Company Overview

Brief History And Our Founding Story

Patis Food Group started its journey as a chocolate brand in 2004 in Ankara, Türkiye. This sweet tale, guided by Swiss chocolate experts, continues with a vision to offer the highest quality and most delicious chocolates appealing to the palate not only of Turkey but of all World.

Our story showcases how natural and fresh Turkish flavors can be combined with carefully selected high-quality chocolates, revealing the wonders that can be created from a cocoa bean. These chocolates, crafted with passion like works of art, offer special flavors tailored to many tastes.

Today, expanding from a 200-square-meter boutique production area to a 40,000-square-meter closed area and employing over 800 staff, 70% of whom are women, Patis Food Group maintains its tradition of handmade production with three factories. Additionally, it broadens its portfolio by including additional product lines such as creams, spreads, granola, and muesli alongside chocolates.

Mission

To delight our consumers with innovative and high-quality food products that blend creativity and superior content, enhancing everyday life with exceptional culinary experiences.

Vision

To be the leading food company renowned for its innovative products and creative solutions, setting the standard for quality and excellence in the industry while inspiring healthier and happier communities around the world.

Brand Purpose

We are here to offer innovative products to our consumers by combining our creativity with high-quality content.

Healthy Products Category:

We have a dedicated category for products that promote healthy living within our company. Our healthy product lines aim to provide customers with the best options for nutrition and quality of life.

Innovation and R&D Focused Approach:

We prioritize innovation and R&D, continuously developing new products and enhancements. By staying abreast of technological advancements, we consistently refresh our product portfolio.

Product Groups at Affordable Prices:

We offer products across various budget options to ensure everyone can access quality items. We prioritize price-performance balance, striving to provide high-quality products at affordable prices.

Premium Products:

We offer unique experiences to our customers in our elegant and exclusive product category. Our premium products represent the highest standards of quality and uniqueness.

Growth and Global Expansion Goals:

As a company, we aim to sustain our leadership in the market by continuously striving for growth and development. We plan to expand our global customer base by introducing innovative products and expansion plans, promoting our brands internationally, and making our products accessible worldwide.

Our Commitment to Sustainability

Women's Employment

Our company contributes to gender equality in the workforce by having 70% of our employees as women. Promoting female employment, increasing diversity in our workforce, and supporting social development are fundamental pillars of our sustainable business model.

Recycle

We are conscious of our responsibility towards nature and society. Therefore, we prioritize sustainability principles at every stage of our products. We are particularly committed to using recyclable packaging because we understand the significant impact packaging has on the environment.

Chocolate Coating Process of Strawberries Using the Freeze-Dry Method commitment to Innovation

Selection and Cleaning of Strawberries

Fresh and ripe strawberries are selected. The strawberries are thoroughly washed, and their stems are removed.

The strawberries are rapidly frozen.

Freezing the Strawberries

Freeze-Dry Process

The frozen strawberries are dried at low temperatures in a vacuum environment. At this stage, the Freeze-Dry method preserves the vitamins, color, and aroma of the strawberries. No preservatives or additives are used during the drying process.

The strawberries are dipped into melted chocolate in special vats. The chocolate coating is evenly applied to the strawberries and cooled to harden.

Chocolate Coating of Strawberries

Cooling and Packaging

The chocolate covered strawberries are cooled to ensure the chocolate coating hardens completely. Finally, the products are properly packaged and stored.

Orange Glazing Process

Slicing the Oranges

The oranges are sliced.

The orange slices are cooked with syrup.

Cooking with Syrup

Drying

The orange slices are left to dry.

The dried orange slices are cut in half. The slices are dipped into melted chocolate and coated with chocolate.

Dipping in Chocolate

Cooling and Packaging

The chocolate-covered orange slices are cooled to harden the chocolate. The products are properly packaged and stored.

A high-contrast, artistic photograph featuring a central splash of dark chocolate. Interspersed within and around the chocolate are several slices of bright orange and fresh strawberries. The background is a deep, dark brown, and the entire scene is punctuated by numerous small, dark droplets and bubbles, suggesting a sense of movement and freshness. The word "PATISS" is superimposed in a light, sans-serif font across the middle of the image.

PATISS

A SWEET Story

Patiswiss while bringing the best quality and delicious chocolates not only to Turkey but to the whole world, reveals how miracles can be created from a cocoa bean by combining natural and fresh raw materials with quality chocolates. Patiswiss is made in the hands of an artist who performs her art with love and takes pleasure in bringing this love into the hearts of chocolate lovers and making them happy.

First IN TÜRKİYE

Patiswiss Chocolate, which started chocolate production in Ankara in 2004 with the guidance of Swiss chocolate experts, today offers unusual flavors with more than 400 product types in 12 main categories.

Chocolate

From Past to Present

Cocoa trees from which cocoa beans are obtained are the main raw material of chocolate and were discovered by the Mayans, the ancient natives of South America. The Olmec, Aztecs, and Mayans consumed cocoas as a drink. They believed that this drink gave energy and strength, and had a mystical feature that made the person happy. Europe's recognition of the cocoa bean took place with geographical discoveries. Thanks to a Spanish explorer named Hernan Cortes, in the 1500s, chocolate was spread from America to Europe and from there to the world.

The production of chocolate, which has long been the food of aristocrats and nobles, underwent a revolution with the cocoa machine, invented by Dutch chemist Coenraad Johannes van Houten. In 1828, the machine was invented: it separated the cocoa butter from the roasted cocoa seeds, and the remaining chocolate could turn into a powder. This powder made people able to mix it with liquid and other materials, therefore, it became chocolate that is solid and edible, and easily digested. Joseph Storrs Fry who was inspired by Houten produced the first chocolate bar. Swedish Daniel Peter, who added milk to chocolate, pioneered milk chocolate.
