What is Xylitol?

Xylitol is a natural sweetener produced by adding hydrogen to D-xylose derived from plants. It has a similar sweetness to sugar but two-thirds the calories, and is now widely used as a food additive, cosmetic, or pharmaceutical. Xylitol, which is a 100% molten solution quickly and hardened, is a sugar alcohol with a 5-carbon sugar structure. Unlike sugar, glucose, and starch syrup, xylitol has 0% of sugar content.
