Boato Pack is an Italian company founded in 1957, with close to 70 years of experience in designing and manufacturing vertical continuous four-side seal packaging machines. The company is known for its high-performance and flexible machines, which have adapted to the use of recyclable materials without compromising quality or performances.

The Boato Pack product range has expanded over the years to include stick machines, multi-lane pillow bag machines for primary packaging, and automatic end-of-line solutions for secondary packaging. The company's modular block system (BPMBS) allows for easy and quick adjustments in the size and configuration of the packaging machines.

Boato Pack machines are known for their ability to work with thinner packaging materials, resulting in cost savings. The company also emphasizes its commitment to using recyclable materials, and many customers have successfully transitioned to such materials without requiring technical assistance.

Boato Pack offers testing of novel packaging materials and product packaging combinations, either at the customer's facilities or at the company's premises. The company places a strong emphasis on hygiene standards, with features such as full CIP dosing groups and the installation of sanitization units within the machines.

Boato Pack will be exhibiting at the Gulfood Manufacturing event in Dubai from November 4th to 6th, showcasing its range of solutions for food packaging. The company's solutions cater to products such as tomato paste, ketchup, mayonnaise, soy sauce, margarine, peanut butter, sugar, sweetener, coffee, salt, pepper, instant drinks, and baking powder. The exhibition details are as follows: Sheikh Saeed Hall 2, Stand S2-F71.
